

OUR FAMILY ALBUM

As we flip through our album, we find Olive Brake Dix (left), her son, Philip Arthur Dix (right), and Philip's daughter Eva Dix Druehl, holding her son, William Druehl. Olive (1830-1914) was a descendant of Edward Jackson (Olive Brake⁴, Mary H.³, Edward², John Jackson¹). She and her husband, John George Dix, were residents of the Pringle Tree community of Upshur County, (West) Virginia and raised five children. Philip, Olive's second child, was a graduate of Alleghany College, He was associated with the railroad in Hawarden, Iowa, then moved to Salt Lake City, Utah and practiced law. Later, he operated a nursery. Eva (1883-1984), oldest child of Philip and Goulia Sears Dix, married William Charles Druehl, a Salt Lake City merchant. Later, the Druehls moved to Burlingame, California, where Eva was active in church and social affairs. She participated in the United Methodist Women and was a charter member of the Anson Burlingame Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

This Dix family portrait is courtesy Linda B. Meyers. Much more about the family may be found in Nancy A. Jackson and Linda B. Meyers' Colonel Edward Jackson, 1759-1828, Revolutionary Soldier.