The Office of Accessibility Resources (OAR) offers a wide range of academic assistance, personal development and mental health services to help college years successful and personally satisfying. Our counseling, consulting and personal development services are designed to help you develop effective life-skills, deal with personal, emotional, social and academic issues or problems, and manage unexpected difficulties or psychological crises. All services are confidential and records are not part of a student’s educational record. Services are provided free of charge to students. Our counselors, psychologists and social workers are trained mental health professionals specializing in working with college students.

Office Hours: M-F 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Call 570-577-1604 to schedule an appointment.

Walk-in consultation: M-F 3-4 p.m. No appointment needed for a brief consultation with a counselor. (Students are seen on a first-come, first-served basis.)

If you are dealing with a mental health emergency: Call 570-577-1604 for assistance or Campus Public Safety at 570-577-1111. In an emergency, do not use email to contact the Counseling & Student Development Center.

The CDC offers services and programs that educate students in the art of integrating their career goals with their varied academic and life experiences. Trained peer and professional counselors help students in many ways: learn how to make good career decisions and write effective resumes and cover letters; understand the application process for graduate, school and networking contacts. Many students find that consultations help them get started on their searches and enable them to better stay on track with summer internship, full-time job, or graduate/professional school searches.

The Writing Center is a resource for anyone on campus, from first-year students to graduate members. Trained peer and professional consultants will help you clarify your ideas and offer feedback at any stage of the writing process. Regular, weekly consultations can help you get started on drafts and stay on track with assignments.

Main office: 100A Roberts Hall

Hours: Mon.-Fri., 8:30 a.m.-noon and 1-4:30 p.m.

Walk-ins welcome, appointments preferred.

The Office of Civic Engagement can help you connect with a variety of community groups and local agencies. Opportunities to get “outside the bubble,” learn new skills, or show what you know are plentiful. Serve as a tutor, gardener, planner, web page developer, health care provider, chef, artist, researcher, consultant, publicist, fundraiser and many other roles. Call, stop by, or visit the website for more information.

The Office of International Education is never too early to begin researching off campus study opportunities (both domestic and international). Explore your options for short-term, semester-long and year-long off campus study to broaden your global and cultural perspectives. We welcome you to visit or contact the Office to discuss international and domestic off campus programs that compliment and support your academic endeavors. Please contact the Office of International Education at:

Botany Building, 570-577-3796

info@bucknell.edu

Hours: 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

The CAREER DEVELOPMENT CENTER

www.bucknell.edu/cdc

The CDC offers services and programs that educate students in the art of integrating their career goals with their varied academic and life experiences. Trained peer and professional counselors help students in many ways: learn how to make good career decisions and write effective resumes and cover letters; understand how to best do your research and prepare well for interviews; search for internships, externships, on campus jobs and fellowships; and learn how the application process works for law school, health schools and graduate schools; and understand the importance of knowing and using proper business etiquette and managing your digital identity effectively with prospective employers, graduate schools and networking contacts. Many students find that consultations help them get started on their searches and enable them to better stay on track with summer internship, full-time job, or graduate/professional school searches.

The Writing Center is a resource for anyone on campus, from first-year students to graduate members. Trained peer and professional consultants will help you clarify your ideas and offer feedback at any stage of the writing process. Regular, weekly consultations can help you get started on drafts and stay on track with assignments.

Main office: 100A Roberts Hall

Hours: Mon.-Fri., 8:30 a.m.-noon and 1-4:30 p.m.

Walk-ins welcome, appointments preferred.

Evening sites and hours: Veddler 5, Sun.-Thurs., 7-10 p.m.

Roberts 2000, Sun.-Thurs., 7-10 p.m.

Bertrand Library 124 (walk-ins only), Sun.-Thurs., 7-10 p.m.

THE LIBRARY & INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

www.bucknell.edu/LIT

The Library Services Desk (library@bucknell.edu, 570-577-1462) circulates library materials (books, DVDs, reserves, etc.), and the Equipment Desk loans laptops, portable hard drives and other technology for use in classroom projects (equipdesk@bucknell.edu, 570-577-7733).

For assignments and coursework that incorporate technology, Technology Peer Consultants and Video Proctors offer assistance on software, such as Wordpress, Adobe suite, Excel, Video Editing software, etc. in the computing labs on Lower Level One of Bertrand Library, itec@bucknell.edu.

The Office of Civic Engagement (OCE) is the primary resource for civic engagement at Bucknell. The OCE helps students find and explore their civic engagement interests, from volunteering and community service to education and administrative advocacy.

The Office of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer (LGBTQ) Resources offers support and resources for LGBTQ students. The Office of Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer (LGBTQ) Resources offers support and resources for LGBTQ students.

The Office of Civic Engagement offers a wide range of civic engagement opportunities, from volunteering and community service to education and administrative advocacy.

The Office of Civic Engagement offers a wide range of civic engagement opportunities, from volunteering and community service to education and administrative advocacy.

The Office of Civic Engagement offers a wide range of civic engagement opportunities, from volunteering and community service to education and administrative advocacy.

The Office of Civic Engagement offers a wide range of civic engagement opportunities, from volunteering and community service to education and administrative advocacy.
College can and should be a challenge, but you don’t have to go it alone. You can find support, guidance and mentorship through a number of offices and programs, including those listed here.

Your first steps for success are to: attend all classes, manage your time and find good places to study. In addition: seek out those who can help. Get to know your adviser and meet up with your faculty members during office hours.

CONTACTS: The Associate Deans in each college and Assistant Director in the School of Management are there to provide information, assistance and services of an academic nature. They handle questions concerning degree requirements, declaration of major, requests to change colleges or degree programs. If you are experiencing difficulty in a course, finding it hard to study or to get motivated, are considering a leave of absence, or need to request a withdrawal from a course or an incomplete, call for an appointment to discuss the matter with the appropriate Dean or Director.

- College of Arts and Sciences
  my.bucknell.edu/x52621.html, 570-577-1301
  M. Lynn Breyfogle, Associate Dean – First-Years and Sophomores in College of Arts and Sciences
  Rich Robbins, Associate Dean – Juniors and Seniors in College of Arts and Sciences

- College of Engineering
  my.bucknell.edu/x55786.html, 570-577-3705
  Karen Marosi, Associate Dean – All Engineering Students

- School of Management
  bucknell.edu/academics/school-of-management.html, 570-577-1337
  Ivy Kepner-Shaw, Assistant Director – All School of Management Students